Daisy Embellished Fashion Doll Skirt Free Crochet Pattern & Tutorial

This sweet little crochet skirt combines bright colour, simple stitches and a charming handmade daisy embellishment. The main body is worked in a cheerful pink yarn, while the contrasting green waistband gives the skirt a playful floral-inspired finish. A lazy daisy embroidered flower on the front adds the final decorative touch. It is a quick fashion doll crochet project that is especially lovely for using small amounts of leftover yarn.

Round 3

Starting in the 2nd chain from the hook, work 1 double crochet into each stitch across.

Turn your project.

Round 4 - Green Waistband

Join the green yarn.

Starting in the first stitch, work 1 double crochet into each stitch across the entire row.

Fasten off the green yarn, leaving a tail to weave in.

Closing the Back of the Skirt

Fold the crochet piece so that the two short sides meet, making sure the right side of the skirt is facing outward.

Using slip stitches, join the two sides together to create the back seam of the skirt. Check the skirt on your doll as you work so that the finished piece is fitted but can still be comfortably put on and removed.

Fasten off and carefully weave in all loose yarn ends with a yarn needle.

Adding the Lazy Daisy Flower

To give the skirt its floral finish, embroider a lazy daisy flower onto the front using white yarn for the petals and yellow yarn for the flower centre.

Position the flower slightly below the waistband and approximately in the centre of the skirt. Use several elongated lazy daisy stitches to form the petals, then fill the centre with yellow yarn.

Secure the embroidery yarn neatly on the inside of the skirt and trim any excess ends.

Finishing Your Fashion Doll Skirt

Try the completed skirt on your doll and gently shape the crochet stitches with your fingers. The finished skirt should sit snugly around the waist and hips, with the contrasting green waistband and embroidered daisy becoming the focal points of the design.

You can also make several variations by changing the skirt, waistband and flower colours. Pastels can create a soft spring look, while brighter contrasting yarns can give the same simple pattern an entirely different personality.
